CAPITAL, £5000.

In 5000 charcs of £1 cach, of which the proprietors retain 750 patd-up shares, and receive £900 from first contributed capital. Remaining £250 shares are offered to the public on the following terms:—2s 6d per share on application, 2s 6d per share on application, 2s 6d per share on application, 2s 6d per share on application. The ground proposed to be worked by this Company is a six-acre lease taken up by Mesers. Krobmann and Co., and is situated between the Turon and Macquarie Rivers, on the "Welcoma" line of recf.

Of the various leases along this line of recf, the Hewkins Hill View, Samuals and Co., Great Tambarrowa, Welcotan, and Pactolus are so well known as to need no detailed description, and this lease adjoins the Hewkins Hill View Co.'s Claim, in which stone is now being raised that is estimated to go over 8 coz to the ton. This reof must pass through this Company's lease.

The recfs in the above-mentioned companies' leases can be traced through this Company's lease.

The recfs in the above-mentioned companies' leases can be traced through this Company's ground; and in the present shaft (about 20 feet deep) quarte plainly showing gold has been found, specimens from which can be seen at the agent's office, Growlle's Rooms.

Apart from the actual rich claims of Hawkins Hill itself, this line of recf stands highest in the estimation of all practical persons, and it may fairly be anticipated that the returns from this line will in time rival seven the Hill itself, as lease after lease is opening out large and rich recfs and rataing very rich stone; and this lease at and remained to the commission; on the line of and this lease and rich reefs and rataing very rich stone; and the lease as tands promission;

This Company is formed for the purpose of erecting quartz crushing machinery and working TEN AGRES on the line of reed shown as the General Bourke and Nuggetty Reefs at Chambers' Creek, which are the southern continuation of the well-known Hawkins Hill Belt. The ground is close to Micerra. Allen, Hunt, Homeman, Schresder, and Pigott's well-known claims, all of which are now getting gold and are in full operation.

The auriferous reefs crop out on the surface through the entire length of the two claims, which consist of 4 acres on the General Bourke Reef, and 5 acres on the Ruggetty Reef. For the machine site the proprietors have secured one acres, acknowledged to be the best position in the district, with a never-failing supply of water at all times. The quarts from the Company's claims can be delivered at the battery by a self-acting tramway.

The machine site, which can be seen on the map at our office, is surrounded by numerous very rich claims, now in full work, and the profus from crushing for the public would alone prove a most renumerative investment.

The high value of the Chambers' Creek leases is acaroaly yet known in Sydney, but all who have impacted the ground have returned convinced that the district is beyond

Mr. Housman has just sold one acre, (the Bismark Lease) for £3000 cash, and which has just fight have been £3000 cash, and which has just fights have for some time been getting good returns from their claims by hand crushing, and consider their properties quite equal in value to most of these on Hawkins Hill.

The professional reports by the Mining Engineers whose names are attached thereto, will without further comments recommend the Crown Frince Gold Mining and Quarte Crushing Company as a thoroughly reliable and lucrative investment.

This Company is formed to work a lease of five (5) across hold by the proprietors, estimated between the well-known ROBINSON CRUSOE and SOUTH STAR leases, being No. 1 North of the prospector's, and known as the Middle Roof; these is a shaft being put down on this lease. The rest struck is at present about 18 inches thick, and they are getting gold; on the sant claim, south of the Middle Roof, the shaft averages about two (3) onces of gold to the ton. This line of reef has been taken up to the Turon River; the adjoining claims on the ROBINSON CRUSOE and SOUTH STAR line of reefs are on good payable gold. A Crushing Machine is now in currse of erection on the Turon, near Bragg's public-house, about half a mile from the ground; another crushing machine is also in course of erection below the Robinson Crusoe line of reef.

There are three shafts already down averaging 150 feet each, all on good stone, which has been tested and yielded 10 oz. per ton. There is also about 10 tons of quartz at grass awaiting crushing. The Lord Nelson, Thompson, Porter, Frincess Louise, Marquis of Loune, and the Pro-pector's claims abut on the company's boundaries. The Frincess Louise has produced 5 oz. of gold, Porter's 6 cz., and Thompson's 10 oz., per ton. A crushing-machine is in close proximity.

Mr. W. Holman has consented to offer his five-zere block in the Green Valley for the formation of a public company, on the following terms:—

CAPITAL £5000, in £1 shares,
2000 of which fully paid up are reserved for the proprietors, and 3000 are offered to the public on the following terms: 2.6 dp per share on application, 2s per share on allotment, and the balance (should m be required) in monthly calls not exceeding Is share. The proprietors to receive £500 cash for provenests airsay made, and to cover all expenses to the 31st March; one-half to be paid on the formation of the Gompany, and the balance within three months.

The leased area, for working which the above Company is proposed to be formed, consists of five acres on the now well-known Homeward Bound line of reefs, and is bounded on the north by Lawler's lease (on gold), and on the acuth on the norm of the rease con good, and on the sound by "Holman's Amalgumated Homeward Bound Company."

The improvements on the claim at present consist of two shafts, respectively 15 and 35 freet. The 15 feet are being substantially logged up, and of the full size for a MAIN DOWN SILAFT; and the other, trial shaft is about 35 feet down, at some distance off, on the same line, and in it wo veins distinct from the Homeward Bound Reef have been cut, whilst two other webs have been found on the surface whilst trenching—thus PROVING the existence of at least four leaders on the lease, thesides the H. B. Reef, which though not yet sunk on, is struck in the adjoining leases, and in Lawler's claim at 50 down is 2 feet 6 inches wide, with gold visible in the stone.

The Company's lease is only two claims removed from Mrs. Beard's and Messus, Bayley and M'Kennie's well-anown properties, from both of which the trial crushings have shown highly satisfactory prospects.

Crushing machinery is now being erected by the "Peep Day Company," and will be ready for work within a few weeks' time.

As the shiking in the Green Valley is remarkably easy, few weeks' time.

As the sinking in the Green Valley is remarkably easy, and therefore a comparatively small capital will be sufficient to diveleps the mine, now that all the preliminary work is done, the Company will be considered as formed when 1000 shares are applied for.

This is one of the, least chances of obtaining so large a leased area on the Homeward Bound Reef, in the Green Valley; and in the event of applications for shares exceeding the number offered to the public, allotment will be made prorate.

The promoters of this company having discovered a rich gold mine in Sydney, are deeply impressed with the necessity of working the same to their own great advantage with all convenient speed.

To this end they propose working the above property on the system known as
which has been most profitably worked in Victoria, Now Zealand, and elsawhere.

Their motives are of the highest character and may be at a word expressed in the undying words.

HEADS I WIN—TALLS YOU LOSE.

The proposety to be developed on the above principles has been selected on a mountain side and four pegs have been carefully and unrightly inserted into the ground. For these pegs, which are made of the best timber they could get, the promoters ask the modest sum of £5000 sech, and they assure a generous and confiding public that they are dirt cheap at the price.

They further propose to dig a halo in the ground to see if there is anything clse in it but the pegs, and if there be, they will have the satisfaction of adding their into towards "developing the mineral resources of the colony" at other people's expanse, and pocketing only one-half of the proceeds.

It may be objected to this scheme, that £480,000 is rather a large sum to pay for prospecting their property by putting a few holes into it, but the promoters are of a different opinion, and they amounce their intention of making all the calls until the ground is thoroughly proved, or at all events UNITLINEN HAVE GOT RID OF ALL THEIR OWN SHARES; leaving the happy purchasers from them to fight cut with the holders of subscribers' shares.

This is without exception the finest property yet offered to the Sydney public; and the names of the precent proprietors—viz. Mears. Bromley, Williams, Connolly, Cummins, &c., gentlemen well known at Hill End, are a sufficient warrant of its genuineness.

There are four distinct lines of reefs running through this lease, the one at present worked by the Marshall, Brothers, being known by the name of King's Reef. This reef was worked in the primitive style some years ago by King and party, and the stone was exceedingly rich, averaging 50 as, to the ton, placed stone; others have on the assae has procured stone which averaged from 4 oz, to 30 on, to the ton.

The property now offered to the public possesses special and unusual claims to consideration. It includes the large area of Twanty-cone Acuss, situated on the celebrated Hawkins Hill, eastward of the rich claims, the reefs on which dip towards it. The accompanying jain will show the position of the land and its special Evantages for economical working. From the bed of Deep Creek, which is 300 feet lower than that of Oakey Creek, on the other eide of the Hill, it is proposed to drive a tunnel from the castern to the western boundary of the Company's property. This will be a thousand feet in length, and as it will cross-cut every reef met with in its propress, it must theroughly develop the resources of the eastern side of the hill, a depth to which no quarts veins have everas yet been explored in New South Wales.

The rich veins which have made the Hill celebrated have all been opened out on its western alope, but they all dip to the eastward, and it is almost certain that they will continue this course, and will be cut on the eastern side at the depth accessible by the proposed tunnel. At process they go downwards.

The castern slope of the Hill, of which the Long Drive Claim forms the principal part, has hitherto been comparatively neglected, yet it is traversed by numerous parallel reefs (Mr. Coates reports twenty-three,) which give a better surface abow than did those on the western side. Some of them have already been prospected by the proposed tunnel, and it is confidently anticipated that they will be completed will be earlied for pumping. The quarts will be intersected by the proposed tunnels, and it is confidently anticipated that they will prove highly resumerative.

The mine will be self-draining, and no expense therefore will be entsided for pumping. The quarts will be furnous on a gentle incline, at a minimum cost for delivery, and another-site has been secured at a point on the creek a little below the mouth of the tunnel.

The drive when completed will be available for

"To the Proprietory, Long Drive Gold Mining Company.

"Gentlemen,—In compliance with your instructions I have the heatour to furnish you with the following report and accompanying plan, descriptive of the position and character of your Long Drive Claim (Nichola' Lease).

"This Lease area (21 acres in extent) is situated upon the castern slope of Hawkins Hill proper, immediately opposite the rich claims of Mesers. Brown, Porter, and Co., Hurley, Beyers, Krohmann, Beard, Rapp, King, Hobson and Johnston and Co.'s; also the Rose of England Company's ground, and still more directly bounded as follows:
"Upon the north by lease areas recently applied for by Mesers. Vickery, Vers, and others: upon the south by the Balmain Company's ground: upon the east by the Deep Greek and two areas recently narked off; upon the west by the claims of Vickery and Co., Vers and Co., the Great Western Undanuted, and the Bang Bang Company's Ground.

"For the purpose of rendering my remarks hereinafter which is considered the main roef, being 3 feet 6 inches wide, but which up to the present time is in its virgin state, but which is fully expected to prove very rich.

Ten months ago the Marshall, Brothers commenced sinking on King's run, and from that time to the present have been resing sphendid stone which can be seen by any who hasy visit the mine. They are now at a depth of 70 feet, the vein being 15 inches wide, and the stone improving in value every foot they sink, the stone they are now rating will (as pronounced by competent judges) resinze 200 oz. to the ton.

There are two other veins running through this lease, the surface stone from which will realize 15 oz. to the ton. The facilities for working this mine must enhance the value of this property considerably, being situated within 400 yards of Chappel's machine, with a good road from the mine. The cost of carting and crushing will not exceed its. per ton. The present proprietors (all practical minere) are at work on the mine and will continue so until the Company is formed. A sample of the stone from the Laim of Marshall, Brothers, together with a map of the ground, and all information required can be obtained from the unfersigned, who has just returned from Hill Each.

Directors will be elected from the shareholders as soon as the Company is formed.

Karly application for shares to be sent to get a state of the state of t lessons explanatory of the real mode of the deposition of gold in quartz voins.

"I have now been some tourteen years directly connected with gold-fields, and during that period, as a scientific observer, I have acquired valuable infermation as regards the physical appearances presented in the immediate vicinity of rich gold-bearing ideas. I have never visited the site of a rich quartz wein without being able to find in close proximity volonic rocks of the kind known to goologists as trackytes or disrites; in fact, so well known are these tocks to the geological miner of the modern school, that they are called gold-producers, and stand in the comparison of their relative values as follows:

"No. 1.—Diorites (Greenstone).—A composition of hornblende and felspar. This is supposed to be, if we except granite, the most slowly cooled of volcanic rocks, and undoubtedly bears evidence of being in direct contact with highly surficrous lodes in America, Australia, and New Zealand.

"This rock traverses Hawkins Hill from north to conth New Zealand.

"This rock traverses Hawkins Hill from north to conth a combination of felspar of various colours, homblende and quarts. This rock is a good gold producer, where its craption took place slowly.

"The Thumes Gold-field, in the province of Auckland. New Zealand, is a mass of trachyte, which covers a cracked and much disturbed slate deposit. In one or two instantes this broken formation is traversed by diorite dykes, and slunost in contact with them occurred the rich gold deposits found in the Caledonia, the Golden Crown, the Long Drive, and Hunt's Claims.

"The great sleepness of Hawkins Hill on either side has almost in contact with them occurred the rich gold deposits found in the Caledonia, the Golden Crown, the Long Drive, and Hunt's Claims.

"The great steepness of Hawkins Hill on either side has resulted in a bending downwards, or gravitation of the unsupported surface-edges of the slate plains and the Guuris Icdes, and thus may be accounted for, the fact, previous to your Company occupying this ground, there existed an opinion that the rocks constituting the eastern slope of Hawkins Hill dipped or inclined to the westward.

"As some of your Company are stready awars, a number of minors have recently been employed upon the Long Drive Lease Ares, and their explorations have resulted in the discovery of no less than twenty-three (23) quarte Iodes varying in width from three feet to a few inches. In four of these lodes the presence of gold has been estifactionly ascertained, and as such gold discoveries have been made almost upon the surface we may imagine, if we bear in united the fact that little gold occurred in the outerops of the valuable lodes upon the western side of the hill, that rich gold deposits ought to be discovered at a greator depth within the boundaries of your projecty.

"The vertical height of the main ridge line above the deep creek is about 750 feet, while the trough of Oakey Creek to the westward is only about 400 feet below that point; thus a fine difference of level between the present desinates of the rich claims and your Company's tumel can be obtained. This fact in itself is one of great importance, and one which recommends your property strongly not only to the mining public generally, but more especially to the rich claims and your Company's tumel can be obtained. This fact in itself is one of great importance, and one which recommends your property strongly not only to the mining public generally, but more especially to the rich claims to a great depth, and convey their questre to your Company's machine after for at least one-third of the stue per ton tow buing paid for packing, and ca a positive prospect of remuneration beyond the gold contained in the issaehold.

"The Long Drive Claim, and indeed the whole of Hawkins Hill proper, is principally composed of the dark blue taloose slate referred to, and, as I have already stated, many quarical code traverse it, bearing about north and south magnatic, and upon their outcome of year of my report increase in richester of the carry part of my report increase in richness as depth is estained, and it is therefore easy to understand the rate of the fact that your tunnel will be at least 300 feet below any mining operation now in artistance, or likely to be a considerable time.

"The fact that your Company's workings must be the lowest of a self-draining or "level-free" character, which can convesionly be run under the rich claims as they now exist, is an important feature, as your enterprise is not likely to be affected by future compatition.

"The finensicus of the main adit or tunnel now being driven in your ground, are such as will admit of the construction of a commodious tramway, sufficiently large to persist of its being worked by hore power. It is also intended to carry out such works upon the most modern and coconnicial engineering principles, by employing horizontal and wortical rock-boring apparatus, of the most modern and coconnicial engineering principles, by employing horizontal and wortical rock-boring apparatus, of the most improved kinds.

"It is further proposed to error, in connection with the Long Drive claim, an extensive and complete Crashing Plant, at the point shown as a machine site on the accompanying plan. This site will be transcrawd to the known arriferous idees ought to be struck at about one hundred (160) feet inside the eastern boundary of you ground fer which presents no engineering difficulties.

This Company is formed for working five acres of ground held under lease from the Minister for Lands.

It is bounded on the south by Rule and Barnett's Golden Claim, six cwt. of stone from which recently crashed at the Mint yielded at the rate of 72 cos. to the ton; and on the morth by Rule, Barnett and Co.'s Abercrouble Lease, in which gold was struck about a fortnight since at a depth of eight feet that yielded 23 cs. to the ton. As the readin both these leases out-crop considerably they must necessarily pass through the Tuesna Control, which is years ago was worked for alluvial gold (proving one of the richest arces in New South Wales), and the miners, in prosecuting their labours at that time, met with numerous gold-bearing refer; but as quartz-mining was not then understood, and there was no crushing machinery in the neighbourhood, it was abandoned when the alluvial was worked out.

"This is really good and sound, as the parties both north and south are getting good gold on the same line of reed. Although the reef in this claim does not show on the surface, I have been credibly informed that parties working the alluvial (eighteen years ago) broke some rich specimens of gold off the cap of the reef, so that every inducement is held out to warrant immediate operations on this lesse. Of course you are aware that the reef underlays to the westward, and I judge from what I could see of the reef that the angle is about twenty degrees, which will give have line about two foet to the fm.; so I would advise you to sink your shaft about thirty-four feet to the west of the reef, and by so doing you would strike the reef in about sinteen fathoms sinking.

Mr. JOSIAH MULLENS, 131, Pitt-street.

The property which it is proposed to work under the above title is a twenty-acre lease, situated on Johnston's Hill, Kime Ranges, about ten miles from Gundagai. An immense reef of conglomerate quartz and sandstone, with siste casing, and well-defined granite walls, runs through the entire length of tha property (640 yards). The width of the roef is from twenty-eight feet six inches the fourteen feet. Two shafts have been sunk on the reef, one of twenty-eight feet six inches wide; and the other at the south in thirty-seven feet deep, showing the reef fourteen feet wide, (distance between the two shafts five hundred yards,) the stone showing gold throughout. The ent-hings taken from these shafts varied from eight and shall dwis, to lot, The last lot crushed (40 tons) went 12 dwis, to the ton; but as the only machine is three miles distant, and of no great power, the proprietors have determined to offer a portion of the property to the public, in order to raise a proper crushing plant of from litteen to twenty head of stampers on the ground.

To this end applica, in has been made for a machine in the groot road on a descending gradient. This site is admirably adapted for the construction of a simile from the reef, with a good road on a descending gradient. This site is admirably adapted for the construction of a dam at moderale cost.

It is estimated that about £5000 will be ample for purchase admirably adapted not use construction of a data at cash at rate (cds.

It is estimated that about £8000 will be ample for purchase and eraction of a large battery of twenty head of atampers, with ingine sheds and all other applicances complete, for working the reof at the rate of two hundred tens per week. It is assumed that as soon as the machine is put to work on the ground, there will be an immediate yield from the ret, which, on account of its great extent and facilities for weaking, can be quarried at a cost of less than four saillings per tab.

ref., which, on account of its great extent and facilities for working, can be quarried at a cost of less than four shillings per ical.

The present indications lead the proprietors to believe that the supply of stone is almost without limit, and gold-bearing throughout.

In the event of the company being formed, it is possible that the services of Mr. William Woodnough, who has been for many years resident in the neighbourhood, and has a large experience in quarta-crushing, may be obtained for the local meangement.

Mesers. Henry Woolnough (Wynyard-street) and E. E. Emith (Struth's Wharf) have visited the mine within the last few days, and (as far as non-professional opinions are worth anything) are able to state that the account as above given is perfectly correct, and they firmly believe, from information obtained by them from practical miners on the spot, that eleven shillings per ton expenses will produce right and a haif pennyweights of gold per ion.

Terms are as follows:—The proprietors ask £600 in cash, and five thousand shares paid-up; the cash will give a right to the stone (say about axity or seventy tone), tools, shed, &c., now on the ground.

No more capital will be called up than will be sufficient to work the quarry of stone on the ground, and ALL BRIARES WILL PLANT CIPATE EQUALLY IN DIVIDENTS, WHATSOEVER THE ANGUNET FART PLY MAY SE.

The company will be registered under "The Limited Libilities Act." As soon as formed, a meeting of the shareholders will be called to elect directors and approve of arti-les of association.

The expenses of floating the company will be paid by shareholders will be caused to detect the same later articles of sascolation.

The expenses of floating the company will be paid by the proprietors, and the share list will be closed as soon as sufficient shares are applied for.

Applications addressed to Mr. J. MULLENS, 131, Pittstreet, must be accompanied by a deposit of 2s. 64, per share, and this money will be returned without deduction should the company not be formed.

APPLICATION.

To, Mr. Josiah Mullens,
Breker for the Great Southern Gold Mining Company (limited).

Sir.—1 hereby request that you will allot me
Shares in the above Company, and now enclose 2s 6d

the above shares, or any portion thereof that may be allotted to me.

Capital £20,000 in 20,000 shares of £1 each, 5600 shares fully paid-up and £3000 in cash are reserved by the present proprietary, the remaining 12,000 shares are offered to the public, and to be paid for as follows: 2s 6d on application and 2s 6d on allotment, the balance in calls of 2s per month, as required.

2s 6d on application and 2s 6d on allotment, the balance in calle of 2s per month, as required.

The property consists of sight acres of ground, in the heart of the richest claims of this famed locality. There are upwards of sixty known veins running through the property, forty of which are ascertsized to be gold-bearing. It is proposed to work this mine by a tunnel, which will interect the recfs of the Welcome Great Mogul Oriental Siar of India Great Mogul Oriental Siar of India Great Tambsroora, and other well-known reefs, at a depth of 500 feet from the surface, thus leaving an immense body of atoms to steep up, and saving the expense of haulage. A machine has been recently purchased for the Oriental Gold Mining Company, which will be erected within a very short distance of the mouth of the proposed tunnel; and this Company will have an opportunity of testing its stone in bulk, before tommitting themselves to a heavy outlay for machinery.

The present proprietors have already spent a considerable sum of money in developing this property. The Welcom, Oriental, Hit-or-Miss, Eng's now Vein, Williams's Vein, Reed's Vein, Great Mogul, and all veins disclosed in the Pactotus Mine, crop out on this ground.

Sprimens of quarte have been taken from two reefs, and the annexed Mint assay shows the result.

For full particulars of the above property, you are referred to Mr. Coates's Mining Rapineer's Report.

It is confidently expected that no further calls than 10s per share will be required on these shares, and should the mine prove renumerative at that outlay, dividends will be paid on all shares allies, whether paid up or not.

Immediately on the close of the share list, a meeting of shareholders will be convened, when directors will be chosen and legal manager appointed.

information the following report and accompanying map descriptive thereof.

This claim, 8 acres in extent, is situated immediately south of the Welcome Lease area, through which the rich reef, known as Sixis; runs and is bounded as follows:—
upon the north by the Prince Alfred, Welcome and New Caledonian Leases: upon the south by the Pactolus and the Golden Crown and Cross; upon the cest by lease areas recently marked eff; and upon the west by the Macquarle River.

River.

The Golden Fleece claim consists of the combined areas of 4 two acre leases amalgamated, and thus a width of 300 vards of the Main Reef Belt, which extends from Hawkins Hill to Chamberr Creek, is accured.

With regard to my opinion as to the value of your Company's ground, I can state that it occupies the direct strike or course of the Welcome, as well as all the lodes traversing the Oriental, and the greater number of these in the Great Mogul Claim; and, as the outcrops of these lodes are generally well defined upon the surface, I have no doubt of these being atrongly developed within the Gelden Fleece area.

The natural features of the combined the product of these being atrongly developed within the Gelden.

doubt of these being strongly developed within the Gelden Flecco area.

The natural features of the country constituting your ground are most fascurable. As in the Oriental and Great Magul Claima, the western boundary of your lease is airusted at the base of a steep hill or apur, which rises to a maximum height of 500 feet within your claim. A transel driven eastward will transversely cut all the lodes in your ground at this level, and then would be neudered accomplish the wast quarts deposits which undoubtedly exist in your claim.

The Proprietors of the present Omnibus Company, being an analgamation of the Sydney Omnibus Company and the Reform Omnibus Company, recognising the great difficulties of conducting large busing operations under a limited ownership, and desiring to improve the present system by cellisting the co-operation of the travelling community, have reselved to invite the public to become share-beiders in the concern, and thus place in their own hands the management and supervision of the omnibus traffic, which has for years been a standing grievance. In submitting this matter to the public, the promoters confidently believe that they insure a larger amount of proft, eafety, and convenience to all by making every traveller feel and exhibit a vested interest in the sfairs of the Company.

The promoters refrain from making any statement beyond the actual accomplished facts, and retain shares to the amount only which their plant, &c., has cost them, without, as its usual in such cases, appropriating any shares as premoter's bonus.

In emelderation of the shares reserved by the present proprietors, the following properties, plant, and material, will be handed over to the New Company, the whole being now in regular nee, and in good working order:

Those leases are bounded on all sides by rich claims as shown on plans, and described in the annexed reports. The proprietors being so confident of the value and ultimate auccess of this Company, think it unnecessary to say anything about it themselves.

The Company have the best water right and machine site in the district for motive power—only about 500 yards from their leases. The quarts can be delivered to it on the Macquarie River by a self-acting tramway.

The proprietors firmly believe that no further calls will be required, as the natural formation of the ground is so sivantageously situated for carrying on chesp and, at the same time, extensive mining operations, that the amount placed to the Company's credit at starting will be amply sufficient to make it self-supporting until dividends can be declared.

This Company is formed for the purpose of erecting machinery for crushing, and to work a five-acre lease, situated within 21 miles of Gulgong.

This lease is surrounded by rich alluvial workings, and is admirably situated for easy and cheep mining. A plentiful supply of water can be obtained within 100 yards of the claim, by the formation of a dam. The machinery can be erected near to the claim, and connected with it by a transvay at a moderate cost, so that the expense of transit would be reduced to a merely nominal sum per ton.

to accede to the request.] The shed was promised to him by Mr. Sutherland. The matter was initiated by him: and when Mr. Leary got into Parliament, he had only to carry out what he (Mr. Hurley) had begun. He also had the cattle tanks seen to. He was always ready at any call from the electors; he was there when Leary was not there. He had been the supporter of the poor man ever since he was born. There was not a Christmas Day passed that he did not give something away to the poor. Gentlemen telectors—he would not say, as Mr. Leary said, "Brother electors "— [A voice: "No, thank goodness, you are not so nearly related to us as that: "Mr. Leary, having a free pass whilst a member of Parliament, came up to Campbelltown to procents. [Mr. Laary. "I never prosecuted here in my life."] (Choese.) If Mr. Leary was not elected, they would not see him in Campbelltown again in a hurry. If Mr. Leary did little before, he will do less now. [A voice: "Never mind prosecutions, give us your political views."] He did not want to gull any man. If he went into Parliament, he would do the best he could for the country. At the stage of life at which he had reached, he did not want to go into Parliament, and he would resign if a local candidate came forward. It was the greatest mistake any electorate could make to elect a Sydney sum when they could get a local man. He would not detain them longer. (A Voice: "Give as some of your political opinions before you stop Are you in favour of the Permissive Liquor Bill?") No, he was not; he was not in favour of any bill which would prevent an hencest person from getting a living. He damitted it might be made a uscell bill, with a few modifications. [Mr. Rurley resumed his seat amidst hooting and cheers.]

prevent an honest person from getting a living. He admitted it might be made a neful bill, with a two modifications. [Mr. Hurley resumed his seat amidst hooting and cheers.]

Mr. B. Dranspiell (who subsequently retired from the centest) then addressed the electors at some length. He chought the Border duties was not the question upon which Parliament should have been sent to the country. He was not in favour of the present Ministry, nor was he with Parkes or the Opposition, but if elected should sit on the Cross benches. The Land Bill was one, above all others, upon which they should go to the country. That was the question which Sir James Martin and his party were afraid of, and one in which all classes of pecople ware most interested. He contended that the proposed Land Bill was legislation for a class, and ought not to be passed. He was in favour of municipal government, and that municipalites should have a certain amount of control over the local police, and should be allowed to collect licease fees for their own improvements. He was in favour of the consolidation of sur debt, Our debt now was something like £12,000,000, and it would be to our advantage to make it a consolidated or permanent debt, and when we had surplus money we could go into the market and buy debontures. He was in favour of the extension of railways. If the Southers line had been carried through rapidly the Border difficulty would not have arises, and we should have had the trade in spite of Melboutne. It was by the extension of railways that Melbourne had gained a good deal of our trade. He considered that as Commissioner for Railways Mr. Byrnes had not done his daty as he ought to have done. He (Mr. Dransfield) was in favour of a duty of £1 per ton on flour, and of, a bashed on wheet. Californian flour was said in Sydney at a price at which our producers could not an example of the said of the effects of someback of the discussion of a hard of the flects of someback of the said on the had the producers of the said on that has not presi

SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1872.

We are not disposed to accept Mr. Garrett's imputation of inexcuselle ignorance, because affairs never published to the world, and at best only the subject of rumour, were not recognised as legally established facts. If we had been asked, indeed, whether Mr. Garrett was solvent, we should probably have expressed some suspicion. Insolvency is the normal condition of a very large class of politicians, and therefore without any exact facts it might have been inferred that Mr. Garrett was somewhere or other between a certificate and a declaration. What we consider unfair is that his appearance on the hustings was almost simultaneous with his visit to King-street.

Mr. Garrett states that he confided to his friends that he was in a crisis, and he WE are not disposed to accept Mr. GARRETT's his friends that he was in a crisis, and he pretends that he stated on the hustings what amounted to an announcement of a lega insolvency. There certainly was a conversation between him and an elector that implied that his affairs were not in a sound condition. But in what way did he meet the question "How are you going to live?"—a fair one to any man who offers himself to perform a gratuitous and expensive service on behalf of the country. His reply was that he thought the question was a piece of impertinence. We maintain that it was thoroughly relevant to the business of the day, and that it is a disgrace to any constituency to choose as its representative any man who has no means of living, and at the same time declares to them that he has no insame time declares to them that he has no in-tention of becoming a Minister of the Crown. A person in that condition must be dependent upon alms. He must be placed in circum-stances fatal to his independence. The infe-rence to be drawn from the tenor of his speech is that he could no longer hold the office of magistrate with the pay of £500 per annum, and that he re-entered political life as a refuge

It is no answer to anything we have said that Mr. Garrett was confidential with his embarrassed. Those not in his confidence certainly would not have gathered the real state of facts from the statement of Mr. Roberson, whom he follows as his guide, philosopher, and friend. That gentleman said philosopher, and friend. That gentleman said state of the receive which compalied the receive which compalied self with an amending measure, the presump-ROERRISON, whom he follows as his guide, philosopher, and friend. That gentleman said not a word of the necessity which compelled Mr. Garrett to relinquish his appointment. All we heard was that he had come forward under the inspiration of a lofty patriotism and renounced his salary that he might serve his country. The following account of a dialogue which took place at the hustings at West Sydney is recorded in the Herald of the 15th February. Voice: "Where is Tom Garrett?" Mr. Robertson: "He is all right. He'll go in. Mr. "Where is Tom Garrett?" Mr. Robertson: "He is all right. He'll go in. Mr. Garrett had given up £500 a-year certain to serve them in Parliament, and he would serve them." A voice: "He is an independent man." Mr. Robertson: "All right, I know he is, and I wish there were more of them." Mr. Garrett may not have said as much to the electors of Camden, but the impression upon his metropolitan adult to the impression upon his metropolitan adult. but the impression upon his metropolitan ad-mirers might, without inexcusable ignorance, be very great, and silence all cavils, at least on the question of motive. It might have produced the same effect as the announcement upon the select footmen of Bath when BLAZES. the aristocratic coachman, informed them that the thrill of admiration when they heard that he had " resigned." We repeat that there was no authentic and public announcement that Mr. Garrett was insolvent until the day of the polling, and that this could not have been known in the remote parts of the electorate. We do not indeed assume that Mr. Garrett would have been rejected if he had read over his schedule, and proclaimed his civil position. The law, as it now stands, undoubtedly gives the opportunity to elect such persons, but it is a gross perversion of the law to enter Parliament on the same day that the insolvency is proclaimed, and through a country constituency to whom it cannot be officially made known. Mr. Garrett, at the day of nomination, spoke of his repugnance to a Civil office, to its restrictions and confinement, and suggested the inference that he panted to return to his old connections in the Assembly, and to resume his old seat. This would not have implied insolvency but patriotism—a devouring We repeat that there was no authentic and plied insolvency but patriotism—a devouring zeal for the welfare of the public. But it threw no light on the motives which are now avowed for his appearance as a canditate—namely, that he could hold his office as a magistrate no longer.

Many of our readers will inquire how far the office of a magistrate is compatible with the state of affairs described in Mr. GARERTT's letter. A more deplorable schedule has been rarely filed. We do not blame any man off hand for declaring insolvency; but we do blame the appointment if made by the Government with the knowledge of his financial embarrassments. How could they expect an independent administration of the law from a man so situated? How, with the pressure of creditors in various forms, and pressure of creditors in various forms, and dependent upon their rigour or clemency, could we expect even-handed justice? A debt is even more powerful to corrupt than a bribe, since many men who would reject a gratisince many men who would reject a gratification are not proof against a threat. We know into what a labyrinth people are conducted by necessity, and how hard it often is for them to be honest when oppressed by poverty; but Mr. Garrett was placed in the magisterial chair in a most important district, though, as it seems, indebted for nearly £3000, with £30 assets. We do not expect supernatural virtue in the candidate for an appointment; but the Government are not true to the public when conferring such functions appointment; but the Government are not true to the public when conferring such functions upon their friends who are in the hands of creditors whom they cannot meet. The objection, indeed, presses equally upon Mr. GARRETT's present vocation. But, so far as it is the act of the constituency, he can plead the confidence they have reposed in him as a set-off against the anomalies of his position. Mr. GARRETT has truly said that many other insolvents have been chosen as representatives. We acknowledge and lament it. The law may allow it to be done, but the law itself is a diswe acknowledge and tament it. The law may allow it to be done, but the law itself is a dishonour to the country. To choose a man after he has proved himself to have acted with honour, and to have received the discharge of the Court, is in perfect harmony with the humane spirit of the English law; but, by the oversight of our Constitution, it removes all the moral safeguards by which the honest is dismoral safeguards by which the honest is dis-tinguished from the dishonest man, and puts it in the power of an ignorant or degraded constituency to declare beforehand that they have no regard for conduct in commercial life, and that a man who may have robbed all his can only be made with honour when proved to be consistent with political morality.

The entrance into Parliament with the view of Ministerial office is perfectly consistent with the rights and duties of membership, but when this is this is meant to secure a permanent berth in some high department, it leads to great injustice and high department, it leads to great injustice and corruption; and it has this further inconvenience, that, upon a change of Ministry, it is not unlikely the members and supporters of a previous Administration will be found the friends and advisers of the Ministers who have displaced them. Let it be imagined, for example, that Mr. SARUEL became the Treatures to moreover. He would be seen to I. I. de a let I. de a example, that Mr. SARUEL occame the Treasurer to morrow. He would have as his Undersecretary, Mr. EAGAR, whom it would be hard to believe or trust, unless upon the conviction that he had chosen definitely and finally a permanent office, and have become the good and manear omee, and have become the good and true counsellor within his sphere to every Minister whatever might be his connections or policy. This confidence can never spring up while Parliament is a stepping-stone to superior clerkships, and when in addition an Under-Secretary has a latent intention of becoming

THE Ministry, in appealing to the country, have come in for a good deal of condemnation with respect to the Land Bill. It is perhaps to be regretted that the discussion on the hustings was not preceded by a discussion in Par-liament. If Ministers had not been so dila-tory, and so afraid of risking a Parliamentary defeat, the second reading of the bill would have come off before the dissolution, and there would have been a debate in which the authors of the measure and its supporters would have had an opportunity of defending the position they have taken, and of giving the reasons for the alterations they propose. As it is, the case was not fully propose. As it is, the case was not fully argued before the verdict was sought, and a one-sided discussion is never satisfactory. Mr. Robertson is about the last man in the that Mr. Garrett was confidential with his country to consent to any unnecessary altera-friends, or that he explained at meetings far away from the hustings that his affairs were lain the other way. Had he been a little more experience he assents to the doctrine that amendments are desirable, and identifies himself with an amending measure, the presumption is that his experience has satisfied him that the settlement of the country will be furthered by the proposed changes. Yet it has been impossible for him to get credit for being honest in his avowal. He has stated most emphatically that in his opinion every class of the community would be benefited by an amendment of the law, and he cannot get believed. His old friends turn upon him with the cry of renegade, and though he has vehemently asserted that every one of the great principles of the law remains unaltered, his asseverations are drowned in a chorus of disapprobation. He ought to understand his own principles, and he has always thought himself a true interpreter of the popular wish; but the electors are trying to persuade him that he is ignorant either of the one or of the sches are bettered. to persuade him that he is ignorant either of the one or of the other, or of both, and he is humbled accordingly.

The element in the bill that has been most objected to is the concession to squatters of the right to purchase a block of 16,000 acres out of their run. Ten years ago when under the Orders in Council the squatter had the right of pre-emption over the whole of his run, nobody would have thought it a great concession had that right been limited to 16,000 acres. But after it has been reduced to 640 acres, the public mind is shocked by the proposal again to increase it. We have already intimated that the reduction in the price of land from 20s. to 5s. an acre is unnecessarily sudden, and that there is no justification for limiting the right to purchase pastoral homesteads to Crown tenants. Chase pastoral homesteads to Crown tenants. But it would have been easy to modify the Bill in these respects, and remove its objectionable features. As it is, the popular outcry has been somewhat indispopular outery has been somewhat indiscriminate, and there is some reason to fear that all proposals for pastoral homesteads will be condemned in toto. This will be a great misfortune to the colony. An opening is required for young men of moderate capital and with experience in rural pursuits. At present there is no medium between free-selecting 320 acres or renting a run. In a pastoral country a freehold pastoral farm is unobtainable except by the lucky purchase of some old estate, or by the purchase in detail of little conterminous properties. We have had it abundantly demonstrated that have had it abundantly demonstrated that many parts of the country are capable of improvement, so as greatly to increase their productive capacity. We know, too, that such improvements are kept at bay by a precarious leasehold tenure, and we know that very much of our territory is fit for nothing but pastoral occupation. Yet we have resolutely gone on keeping capital away from the land and retarding improvements which there is the will and the capital to make. An unimproving monopoly of land in make. An unimproving monopoly of land in the hands of a purchaser is, no doubt, an evil, the hands of a purchaser is, no doubt, an evil, but an unimproving monopoly in the hands of the Crown is scarcely a less evil. As it is, the Crown will not improve the territory itself, and will not sell it to others who will; and a young grazier with a few thousand pounds to the fore, finds himself shut up to the alternative of either selecting a bit of land that is too small for his operations, or renting a run on a tenure that would not justify him in sinking his

A great many of the objections made to the pastoral homestead clauses have been urged in forgetfulness of the fact that only improving occupiers can take advantage of those clauses. In whose hands could the public lands be better vested than in those of improving occupiers? What is urgently required is that the wealth of the soil should be drawn out—that art should the soil should be drawn out—that art should come to the assistance of nature—that the vast common should be covered with enclosures—that the herbage should be improved—that water should be stored—that useless timber should be cleared away, and that useful plantations should be encouraged—that the nomadic epoch of sheep-farming should pass into one of fixed settlement—that squatting should cease, and residentiary freehold occupation should take its place. This, however, is not possible under the pre-Treshold occupation should take its place. This, however, is not possible under the present law, and a change in the right direction seems less possible since the dissolution. It has always been difficult to secure an unimpassioned consideration of the Land question, and the task has not been made less difficult by the present appeal to the constituencies. It is to be hoped, however, that the new Parliament will not feel itself bound to expuse the quarrels of Ministers or exto espouse the quarrels of Ministers or ex-Ministers—that it will not sacrifice the public and that a man who may have robbed all his a fit and proper person for a seat where he may be able to rob the country. Mr. Garrer ought in decency to have waited for a choice which quarter they may come.

THE CAMDEN ELECTION.—With reference to Mr. Onslow's letter published in our journal yesterday, we are requested to state that the polling place asked for by Mr. Onslow at Mulgon Forest, the Returning-officer reported substantially that there were but nine electors interested in it, that the most of those live within five miles of the polling place at the Oaks, and the whole being of a class to whom a ride of five miles was of no consequence. The actual polling at Bowral, one of the places objected to by Mr. Onslow, was 97, and at the other so objected to (Kangaloon East) 118.

SEWRAGE RATES. — A moeting of persons interested in defending the actions brought by the City Corporation to recover sewerage rates was held, restorday afternoon, in the Temperance Hall. The chair was taken by Mr. Bowden (of the firm of Allen, Bowden, and Allen), and that genuleman at once stated the reason of their being called together. The meeting was then addressed by Mrestra. H. Fisher, H. S. Bird, Coben, Simmons, Hart, and others, all of whom consured the Corporation for its action in the matter. One of the gentlemen present stated that 850 summonace had been laund: and it was agreed that each defendant be called upon to subscribe £1, which it was stated would be ample to defend all the actions, and that the surplus, if any remained, should be handed over to the Benevolent Asylum. Several of the gentlemen present signed the agreement, and collectors were appointed to wait upon those who were capolited to wait upon those who were uponted to wait upon those who were only the first.

THE EXHIBITION OF COLONIAL ART.—The first cabibition of colonial art, in connection with the "New South Wales Academy of Art," is to be opened next Monday afternoon, the 4th instant, at 3 o'clock p.m. It is understood that upwards of one hundred pictures in oils and in water colours will be exhibited, many of the paintings possessing a very remarkable and encouraging amount of merit. Some of our chief local artists will be amongst the exhibitors. Victorian and New Zealand artists are also said to have sont numerous exhibits. The arrangements for admission are particularized in another column. It is expected that his Excellency the Administrator of the Government will be pleased to be present at the opening of the Exhibition.

"INSULT TO THE BRITISH FLAG." — In reference to the paragraph under this title which appeared in our issue of yestenday, we are requested to state: 1. That the catter Volunteer had escaped during the night to evade an arrest under process from the Supreme Court of Fill, in its Admiralty Jurisdiction, in a suit for wages. 2. That she was pursued and brought back in due course of law—just as would have been the case under similar circumstances in any British territory. 3. That Mr. Murray, there named, is a practitioner in the Supreme Court of Filj, and, as such, was the professional representative of the plaintiff in the wages sait. 4. That a Fijian merchant flag, obtsined by Mr. Murray, was hoisted by the latter in his professional capacity—as an assistion, it is presumed, of the fact that the cutter was held under Fijian authority to abide the decision of the wages suit. 5. But that this was done without the sanction or knowledge of any officer of the Fijian Government; and that when it was discovered (within about an hour afterward) not only was the British cesign at once replaced, but Mr. Murray was severely reprimanded by one of the Fijian Minteter for what he had done. 6. That Mr. Murray is not and never has been "Acting Attorney-General for Fiji." in the sense which the paragraph from the Times is evidently intended to convey—t. as an appointee of the Fijian Government—although during the filtees of the Fijian Government—although during the filtees of the Fijian Government would never complexance directly or nach Autorney-General in a Mr. Hamilton, and American lawyer, and, formerly, s. THE WRECK OF THE SUSSEX.—After a protracted trial, extending over four days (observes the Aryses), Captain Collard has been found guilty on one of the counts charging him with endangering the lives and limbs of his passengers and crew, and the safety of the abip he commanded, by neglecting to take cortain precultous demanded by the position in which he found himself placed. There were fourteen counts to the information, but the only ones on which the jury did not acquit the defendant were the fifth and sixth, which charged his with neglecting to time the revolutions of the light he mistook for the Schanck light. After the defence was closed, the Attorney-General replied on the whole case in a speech of considerable length. His Honor then susamed up very favourably for the defendant, and the jury retired about twenty minutes to 5 o'clock. They returned into Court shortly after 8 o'clock with the abovementioned verdict. Captain Collard received a sentence of one month's impresoment, The Aryse of the 28th ultime says:—"In one respect his Honor's words were prophetic, the said that if he passed a severe sentence, the words would be hardly out of his mouth before the Brecutive would be asked to release the defendant. As it was, even before the defendant was removed from the dock, the Attorney-General was waited upon, and asked to recommend a remission of the punishment. Mr. Walsh declined to give any promise, but recommended the deputationists to petition the Executive Council, which is to hold a unseting triad to the subject, and a memorial in favour of Captain Collard is being signed."

"Dear Bir,—I noticed a few weaks since in the Times newspaper that the engineer for the corporation of Sydney, when sinking in the sand, rear Sydney, had tound a large supply of substrances water of a quality excellent for the supply of Sydney, "Since then an old triend of mine, Professor Smith, of the University of Sydney, now in Engiand, has called here. you to say that I sincerely hope Sydney may soon obtain a supply of such water.

"Dr. Smith tells us he is of opinion that the subterranean water as derived from the sand, is quite soft enough for all domestic purposes. If, therefore, the subterranean water is pumped by from the sand through cast iron pipes laid in the ground into a covered service reservoir, and conveyed through pipes to Sydney, the city would thus be supplied with water of pipes to Sydney, the city would thus be supplied with water of "I forward you with the coulty."

"I forward you with the coulty."

"I forward you with the coulty of two reports I have had occasion to recently write on subterranean spring water, in which the advantages of spring water over river and other surface water is set out. Although your subterranean water luckily would not require to be artificially softened, yet these reports just now may be interesting to you.

"Mysoff, I have no doubt of the large supply that will be able to be obtained by pumping direct from the sand. I say this, after having carefully read and considered the late report and evidence on the supply of water to Sydney, by the Commission of which Dr. Smith was a member.

"The subterranean water would be far more wholesome and better in quality than water impounded in large open reservoirs. The works also to obtain and supply the subterranean water, would no doubt be cheeper and more easily carried out than works to impound and supply surface water.

"I could not deny myself the satisfaction of writing you to the above purport, and wishing you the compliments of the season.

He said that it had appeared to the committee that this lease should be taken off Mr. M'Ray's hands. The Council had had a most unfortunate experience with their leases. Alderman Linslay seemed to be some combination against this man that the vessels did not so to his wharf. Their property was being depreciated by the manner in which it was handled by these individuals. He thought, from the experience they had had, that the Council should work the wharf; and he believed that they would be able to get it into good working order in the course of two or three years. Alderman Linslay seconded the motion, and said that the reason why they should cancel the icase was to discountenance the giving of tip to caytains by those who had the wharf to make them bring their vessels alongside. They ought only to encourage a legitimate trade even if they only got £2

Fanny Boyer was indicted for that she, on the 12th of December last, at Sydney, did unlawfully take and cause to be taken one Matilds Sarah Gasson out of the possession and against the will of Fanny Sophia Harvey (the said Fanny Sophia Harvey then having the lawful charge of the said Matilds Sarah Gasson), she the said Matilds Sarah Gasson then being an unmarried girl under the age of sixteen years, to wit, of the age of ten years and seven months.

Mr. Buchanan conducted the defence.

The prisoner (the wife of a Chinaman convicted on the day previous) had induced the child Gasson to go with her to her house in Clarence-street, where she lived with her husband, and where the child was found by the detectives. The precise object of this abduction was left to be inferred and was not the subject of direct evidence. It transpired that the child had, in Queensland, been the subject of Bingation between Miss F. S. Harvey (the maternal aunt of M. S. Gasson) and the prisoner. The mother of the child having, unfortunately, become a lunatic, left her daughter with the prisoner, in whose charges she had remained until the prisoner was compelled, much against her will, to give her up to her relative and natural protector. Meeting the child as she was going to acheol, the accused, by a species of threat, induced the child to go with her to her place, but the child's aunt had recourse to the sid of the police, and so regained possession of the poor child. When detectives Camphin and Elliott, found the child in prisoner's house, six Chinamen were in that place. This case was austained for the Crown by the evidence of detectives Camphin and Elliott, Anne Sophis Harvey, Matilda Serah Gasson, and Miss Halley, a school teacher.

The jury retired to deliberate, and after a short interval, reappeared in Court. The foreman said, "Our verdict is, not guilly. His Honon said: I am sorry for it. If there is no other charge against the prisoner, let her led discharged.

TIN MINING COMPANIES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD. SIE.—As you have in your leading columns, on several occasions, cautioned the public of the dangers of mining vertices, I am sure you will permit me to bring before that public a frature which I consider maint to them.

Not a hundred years ago I was induced to take shares in a in campany, under the impression, of course, that I should have to pay for those shares, on the conditions of the prospectus, which contained the following words amongst other text not in any way modifying their meaning:—

should have to pay for those shares, on the conditions of the prospectas, which contained the following words amongst other text not in any way modifying their meaning:

"35,000 paid-up shares are reserved by the present proprietors as their interest, and 15,000 are now offered to the public on the following terms: i.s. to be paid on application, 2s. on allotment, and the remainder in calls not exceeding is, per share, if required.

"No provisional directors have been appointed, as it is intended by the proprietors that a directory shall be chosen from the general body of shareholders."

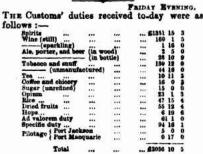

The following advertisement has appeared since:—

"All the shares in the above company having been subscribed for, the shareholders are requested to attend a meeting, to be held at the Chamber of Commerce, this day, the '94th instant, at 3 o'clock p.m., to elect Directors, and transact other business."

Coupling the above extracts and advertisement, I think you will admit there was, at any rate, some cause for my being surprised, on heavy the subscribing shareholders informed at the meeting that they would only be entitled to dividends on amount paid up, and not on the full share which they had purchased on the proprietors own terms.

It may be that the original proprietors and their advisers are right and that I am purblind; but I must, even at the risk of the public arriving at such a conclusion, confess my total inability to read anything more in this, certainly uncommon feature, than a theroughly grasping afterthought, A mining manage having returned, and given a good account of the prospectus, the projectors imagined they had let the public arriving at such a conclusion, canfess my total inability to read anything more in this, certainly uncommon feature, than a theroughly grasping afterthought, A mining manages having returned, and given a good account of the prospectus, the projectors imagined they had been the position assumed at the meeting, in dvitames of the public on the terms printed; and the scond paragraph extrac

Business in the import markets has improved a little in consequence of some inquiry for trade supplies from the country districts and from Queensland. Orders for Fiji have also come in, and with the tendency high prices ruling in England will have to check speculative shipments, an improvement in trade is considered certain to set in before the winter season. THE NATIONAL CIRCUS.—The ever popular circus still continues to draw large sudiences, and each night the extensive tent has been crowded. The artists are usually clever and the feats performed by the brothers Tourneer, Master Joey, and Miss Raphael are nightly greeted with enthusiastic applause. Mr. King makes an excellent ring-master, and as Joster, Mr. Piexmore has few equals, and taken as a whole the criertainment is conclient. There is to be a midday performance to-day, when the juveniles will have a rare treat, and to-night a new programme will be placed before the public, when amongst other novelies, the sensational "Steeplechass" will be produced.

No other condidate 'osing mentinated, although more were Mr. O'Brillitte's me forward, was received with cheers, and sak: Gentler and, the state of the last session I served to have judgmen', passed on my conduct, and to more than the last of t within and without the wails of the House; they and the defeated at the secend reading or in committee, and would have to appeal to the country on its merits, on which they were sure also to be defeated. They, therefore, gave the cry of war on the Border question. Personally I was displeased with it, and there were many petitions against it. On my own perusal of each clease, I dater mined to oppose it in committee. When I met you during the last recess, I gave it to you as my opinion that the combination of Sir James Martin and Mr. Robertson was most dispraceful, and now the country uphold the Opposition in their opinion, by refusing to return the members of that shameful Ministry. Out of five members who put up for Sydney and were sure of being re-elected, only one was returned, and the other four are begging from other constituencies to be returned. The honour of the country was sold for Martin's ambition and Robertson's poverty. If such conduct was allowed, we do not deserve to possess the free institutions we erjoy. The country looked with disdain upon that Assembly who sanctioned such disgrace; but now the country puts a stop to it in refusing to return the supporters of that combination. Mr. Robertson was re-elected owing to his past useful career, and his desertion was forgotten on the present occasion, owing to his poverty. I was present at the election for West Sydney, and at the different booths the cry was, "Give poor Jack a vote!" (Lughter.) The taunt made in the Assembly that the Opposition was frightened to go before the country is now proven false, as the Opposition get returned and the Ministerialists are defeated in most instances. I gave my vote to both parties on the merits of the question before the House. I never was a party man. What had we to fear? Was it the Military Bill or the 250 men who compose our standing army good for? To strend our Governor and Sir James Martin on his visita to the fortifications, which are now declared useless; and what is being done one in a few years, at an ex nere half-made roads and expensive railways, such as all present exist. The paths debt is from ten to twelve milliones, perily intered by the railways, and the interest is all coloud a year, which has so be paid out of year taxes. For the fluore Governm at more retreach. The people of the interior must have the management of their cone affairs, sail is done in Ragland. Are the men in this country less intelligent than at home! (No!) that they cannot making their new roads, bridges, and local matters! The unining interest also must be leaked to. It has been too long neglected. The summand mining capital new floating in Sydney alone will turn the attention of 'ur directors to the proper way. The present Government is to blame for the unestisfactory mining laws. Sir James Martin is the bitterest opponent of the Mining Commission appointed some time ago; and although their report has been brought in a long time, no bill has yet been prepared. The new Government must make both ends used. They must act so that they will be able to say: "Our people have improved so islly and materially, crime is diminishing and education spread ng." The new Government must be above thoughts of office; must make good laws and manage affairs honestly. Such a Government will have my support if am elected (Cheera.) The Government will have my support if am elected (Cheera.) The Government of a country is a reflex of the public mind. If you do your duty by sending proper men into Parliament, you can expect to have a proper Government, but if you make a burlesque of the election, you will debase public men, and will never have a proper Government. I am a free trader, and should like to see the port of Sydney a free port. (Applause and dissention)

Mr. Connec came forward, and was received with such hooting, derisive cheers, and other tokens of merriment, but will not poke my nose after Government billets, atthough 1 am a poor man, which is a disgame. I am no drunkard, no gambler, no specidibrith, but I am too fond of law. You will not the y

Sydney, 1st March, 1872.

I am, Gentlemen, yours faithfully,
Sydney, let March, 1872.

TO THE INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF ARGYLE.

GENTLEMEN,—I am again a candidate for the representation of your county in Parliament.

I have not changed any of my political opinions since you did me the honour of electing me, over two years ago, without opposition.

Since that time my votes in the Assembly, upon every subject of national importance, have been in accordance with my promises upon the hustings; and I have also attended diligently to your local interests, as many of you, in various parts of your electorate, can testify.

I thought of ending here, but, perhaps, a more explicit avowal of my epinions may be expected from me upon the subjects of most importance in these general elections.

The turmoil and expense of these elections are caused for no rational or patriotic purpose. The Border duties are the extensible cause, upon which the only remaining issue is the mode of taking an account. Whether this colony would accept what Victoria was willing to concede, namely, all that abould be found justly due; or whether £60,000 should be insisted upon, whether justly due or not, as a preliminary to the taking of any account at all—this is the question upon which the Ministry have obtained a dissolution of the Assembly. A dissolution in which, esting the will of Parliament at definance, the interests of Riverina, and even the possible dismemberment of that part of our territory, are disregarded; all the connequences are disregarded excepting the dominating deposition of Sir James Martin and Mr. Robertson—the leaders of opposite parties in the House and in the country—holding of each other, reciprocally, that the character and principles and practices of each were false and permitious, made me an uncompromising member of the Opposition. I still hold the opinion that until this combination, with its corrupt means and majorities, he reprobated by the country, there is no room for the success of truth and integrity in public lite.

means and majorities, he reprobated by the country, there is no room for the success of truth and integrity in public line. My hostility to the Land Bill of the Ministry has stready been repeatedly expressed in my place in the Assembly. To this bill, which takes from free electors the right of pre-smptve lease which other freeholders are allowed by law—which makes incompreheastled distinctions between the areas and the prices of Crown lands, both as between the free selectors amongst themselves and between them and the pastoral fenants of the Crown—which proposes a permanent division between the maximum area of the other, which no une is invited to occupy—which proposes to confer without payment or consideration an increased value upon every pastoral lease by means of the salable right of purchasing a pastoral homestend of 16,000 acres—which proposes to create large freeholds upon the choicest lands at an exceptionally low price, and to confer these upon the pastoral tenants alone, to the exclusion of all other colonists of adequate industry and means—to this till 1 am inflatibly apposed, notwithstanding my sincer desire that in the freehold estituenes of the public lands justice should be done to the tanants of the Crown.

I am aware, indeed, that, under the pressure of public opinion, and within the probability of a dissolution of latitament, this bill is being reprinted with "modifications"—modifications nade out of promises which can aver be fulfilled. Such of you as still believe in the integrity and soundness of the firm may possibly be induced to accept those ministerial promiseory notes.

Gentlemen,—I am willing to continue to serve you faithfully in the swent of your again electing me as your representative.

I have the honeur to be, your obdedient servant,

I have the honour to be, your obedient servant,

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE DISTRICT OF

GWYDIE.

GENTLEMER,—As no conside to has come forward to solicit your suffrages, except your late member, who has systematically shemted himself from the Assembly, and left the duties he undestook wholly unperformed, I beg to offer myself for election.

With respect to the question of Border duties, which caused the dissolution of the Assembly, it is to be deplored that some jarrangement was not made to prevent the extreme measure of establishing Customs houses on our inland frontier. That an equitable settlement of the difficulty will be made by the next Assembly, however it may be constituted, I feel convinsed. All think it is unnecessary for me to say more on this subject than that, if decoted, I will always support any measure that tends to promote friendly relations with the eister colonies.

As Ministers seem disposed to make material alterations in the prospeed Land Bill, it is really impossible to give an option on that which may be so modified as to be entirely snother bill. But this I will say, that any measure which does not deal fairly and justly with both those who now occupy the land as tenants, and those who wish to become proprietors of it, will not meet with my support.

I am a Freetrader in every sense of the word, and will never support any measure that would benefit one class at the expense of another.

Having been engaged in pastoral pursuits for upwards of thirty pours, and having a large state in your district, which is the home of myself and family, my interests are altogether identical with your own.

If elected, I will not shirk the responsibilities I undertake, but will take my seat, and to the best of my ability do all I can for the good of the raiony generally, and of all parts of the district I represent.

W. C. ELDRIDGE,
DYER, SCOURER, AND HOT-PRESSER,
137, York-strest,
Bydney.

W. C. ELDRIDGE respectfully acknowledges the continuous and increasing patronage so generously according to him by the public of Sydney and of the Australian colonies generally, and kindly thanks them for those favours shown to his establishment, enabling him to maintain the leading position it has held for the long period of thirty-three years, and which it will ever be his ambition to maintain, by the beat work and just charges.

"An infinite amount of pleasure is derived from the colours of Nature, and there is no art which has more claims upon manhind than that of dyeing. If the mann-factures of silk, wool, and thread are those which serve principally to sustain and give value to commerce, dyeing, which communicates to them that beautiful variety of colours which makes then so agreeable, initaring whatever is most lovely in nature, forms the soul, without which the body could have but a feable existence."—BRITHOLLET.

Wool and silk in their natural condition show rather the which the body could have but a feeble existence, "—BERTHOLLET.

Wool and silk in their natural condition show rather the rudeness of the age than the genius of man, and the refinement of our days, and would command but a very limited trade did not dyeing impart to them that elegance which makes then desired by all nations.

DYEING IS MANIFESTLY A PROGRESSIVE ART, and its improvement must keep pace with the advance of several other arts with which it is intimately associated. It has in our day with marvellous strides gone to the front rank of SCIENTIFIC WONDERS that modern taste has demanded from the manufacturers of TEXTILE ADORNMENTS for the indulgence of MODERN TASTE and EVER-CHANGING FASHION. The Dyer of 1872 must produce his colours rich and pure as the RADIANCE OF HEAVEN'S ETHERIAL BOW, and every hue come forth from his hand in the fair proportion described so truly by the poet of natural beastly, Thomson:—

described so truly by the poet of natural beauty, Thomson:

"Pirst the faming RED

Sprang vivid forth; the tawny ORANGE next;
And next delicious YELLOW, by whose side
Fell the kind beams of all-refreshing GREEN;
Then the pure BLUE that swells autumnal skies
Ethereal played; and then of andder hus Emerged the deeper INDIGO (as when
The heavy-shirted evening droops with frost);
While the last gleamings of rafracted light
Died in the famining VIOLET away."

Every colour, and shade of colour, is produced at the York-street establishment of W. C. E., unsurpassed for brilliancy or delicacy of thit; and a few of the latest are caumerated as examples:—
MAGENTA, "Celestial Rosy Red, Love's proper hus."

MAGENTA, "Celestial Rosy Red, Love's proper hue." SOLFERINO, "the tint of maiden's blush and besuty o AZULINB, "the Blue of Heaven's own tint." COULEUR D'OR, "the glowing Orange to the Primer ECLIPSE VIOLET, "the Purple of Pride, fit to adors OPHRLIA PURPLE, "the pale Violet's dejected hue."

The rapidity with which the whole of the allotments already leased have been built upon clearly shows the great value of property in this locality, and also that the system of 99 year? lesses, and the great advantages arising therefrom, are being better underwiced and steld upon. Men of limited capital or small means would do well to consider the very great inducements which a losse for so long a period presents to them in particular. With nearly all the advantages of a freehold they are enabled to aquire A REALLY VALUABLE PROFERTY by payment of a trilling yearly rental.
